PERSONAL SUMMARY

After graduating from the University of Economics, I realized I was not a good fit for my chosen major. During the time of social distancing, I decided to self-study graphic design. Currently, I am a freelance graphic designer. With the support from my friends and clients, I have cultivated a diverse portfolio encompassing graphics, branding, layout and website. My ongoing commitment is to find a professional environment where I can learn and collaborate with talented designers, further enhancing my skills to deliver value designs to the company and clients.
